ANNUAL REPORT

ASCE FOUNDATION

Greetings Foundation Supporters and ASCE Members

On behalf of the ASCE Foundation Board, the Council of Trustees and staff, thank you for helping to make 2018 a successful year for the ASCE Foundation. With your generous support, the Foundation funded several ASCE Programs that provided professional and personal development to ASCE members at every career stage.

The ASCE Foundation's primary purpose is to fund ASCE programs to help ensure that ASCE has the funds needed to help its members make meaningful change in the world. Programs such as student competitions, leadership conferences, diversity and inclusion events and scholarships, to name a few, do just that. Learn about these and other vital programs that the ASCE Foundation supported in 2018 on the pages that follow.

Thank you for making a gift to the Foundation in 2018! I look forward to your continued generosity and support.

Sincerely,

H. G. "Gerry" Schwartz, Ph.D., P.E., NAE, Pres.02.ASCE
President

OUR MISSION

The Foundation seeks to help build a stronger civil engineering profession to meet tomorrow's national and global challenges, by providing support for ASCE programs that enhance the quality of life, promote the profession, advance technical practices and prepare civil engineers for the future.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

This year nearly 9,000 Student Members participated in ASCE Student Activities. With generous gifts from ASCE members, the ASCE Foundation supported the Architectural Engineering Institute (AEI) Student Design Competition, National Concrete Canoe Competition, CI Student Days and student conferences across the United States! These hands-on, real-world learning experiences help ASCE Student Members gain knowledge outside of the classroom, develop leadership skills, engage in networking opportunities and prepare for a successful Civil Engineering career.

AEI STUDENT DESIGN COMPETITION

This year 163 Student Members representing 18 multi-disciplinary architectural engineering student teams from eight universities registered for the competition. Teams were challenged to address the design, integration and construction issues of the Children's Hospital and Medical Center in Omaha, NE. Five teams from five universities were invited to the final competition, held during the AEI Forum in Omaha, to present their proposals to a 12-person volunteer panel of practitioner jurors. Penn State earned the top award for Building Integration and the award for Outstanding Achievement in Innovation – Disaster Response Planning. Lawrence Technological University earned the award for Outstanding Achievement in Innovation – Enclosure.

31ST ANNUAL NATIONAL CONCRETE CANOE COMPETITION

Twenty-five teams of 10-12 Student Members each, from as far away as China, participated in this competition to design, construct and race water-worthy canoes at San Diego State University. This competition builds awareness of concrete technology and application and demonstrates the versatility and durability of concrete as a construction material. California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, held its title as Overall Winner, winning the competition for the second time in two years. Gifts from our donors enabled the Foundation to fund grants for the overall first, second and third-place winners and travel grants for all qualifying teams.

CI STUDENT DAYS

Thirty-five ASCE Student Members from across the country participated in this Construction Institute (CI) event that brings together top engineering students and potential employers seeking new talent. Participants were formed into teams and charged with developing a written and oral construction site proposal based on a real-world situation. Professional civil engineers joined the students in San Diego to provide guidance and mentoring, to participate in the speed networking activity and to demonstrate the value of participating in ASCE throughout their careers.

LEADERSHIP

The ASCE Foundation helps fund ASCE Leadership programs that support Students', Younger Members' and Members' professional and personal development at every stage of their careers. In 2018, the Foundation supported the Multi-Region Leadership Conferences, Younger Member Leadership Symposium and Diversity and Inclusion activities.

MULTI-REGION LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (MRLC)

In 2018, ASCE held three dynamic two-day conferences for ASCE Society leaders in Omaha, Las Vegas, and Buffalo. Through targeted sessions, leaders increased their knowledge, skills, and professional networks. During each MRLC, the ASCE Foundation awarded a $500 grant for impactful activities held at the Chapter, Branch, or Section level. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the University of Nevada at Reno used their grants to conduct outreach activities for elementary and high school students. The Polytechnique Montreal Student Chapter used its grant to increase the number of Canadian student chapters and increase ASCE Canadian student membership and activity.

During each MRLC, the Foundation facilitated Student Focus Sessions on finance and fundraising. The Foundation shared fundraising skills and lessons learned to build confidence in students. During the interactive sessions, students learned to identify support and resources available to Student Chapters from ASCE Headquarters, the ASCE Foundation, and local Sections or Branches from their more experienced peers.

COMMITTEE ON DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION (CDI)

The Foundation supported CDI activities including:

- Delivering the “Disasters and Decision Making: A Matter of Ethics” workshop at the EWRI Congress in Minneapolis
- Exhibiting and delivering a mentoring workshop at the National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) Annual Convention in Pittsburgh, where approximately 30 attendees completed membership applications and approximately 50 students attended the workshop
- Developing a “Canon 8: Ethical Guidelines for Diversity & Inclusion” session that was conducted at ASCE’s 2018 Convention

YOUNGER MEMBER LEADERSHIP SYMPOSIUM (YMLS)

The Committee on Younger Members hosted the three-day YMLS at ASCE Headquarters. During the symposium, 35 Younger Members received training on leadership and professional development topics to support their personal and professional growth. 2018 YMLS highlights include preconference tours in the Nation’s Capital, sessions on personal vision and communication and a leader’s panel on the value of mentoring and networking. Eighty-four Younger Members from nine regions and 26 states planned, organized and conducted the event for their peers.

ENGINEERING PROGRAMS SUPPORT

Donors' generous giving helps the Foundation support programs that advance technical practices, such as the SEI Futures Fund, SPAG and ASCE Infrastructure Report Card activities.

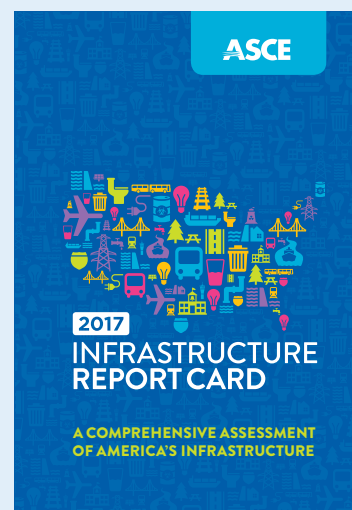

SEI FUTURES FUND

The SEI Futures Fund, in collaboration with ASCE Foundation invests in the future of the structural engineering profession, promotes student interest in structural engineering, supports Younger Member involvement in SEI and provides opportunities for professional development. With funds raised by the Foundation, the SEI Futures Fund:

- Awarded Scholarships to the Structures Congress to 30 Student Members and Young Professionals, which provided financial assistance, including complimentary registration and varying degrees of travel assistance;
- Implemented the SEI Global initiatives through development of resource workshops and an international practice guide, and increasing international sessions at Structures Congress;
- Delivered a Stakeholder Workshop to align SEI messaging strategy;
- Piloted the Live Streaming of content at Structures Congress 2018; and
- Supported Young Professionals' Engagement on the SEI Standards Committees.

THE STATE PUBLIC AFFAIRS GRANT (SPAG) PROGRAM

The SPAG Program offers merit-based awards for innovative media relations or government relations projects that leverage the Section's/Branch's existing efforts. This year, ASCE Foundation contributed 50 percent of the funding required to award 28 proposals received from 22 Sections/Branches.

The ASCE Foundation-supported Infrastructure Report Card, which was released in 2017, continued to generate interest in 2018 and position ASCE as a key source of infrastructure expertise. ASCE leaders and senior staff delivered 36 infrastructure presentations this year to established infrastructure stakeholders and new audiences.

EDUCATION

Gifts from ASCE members enable the ASCE Foundation to support a full suite of ASCE educational programs.

This year the Foundation continued supporting the ExCEED teaching workshops and provided educational grants to support the opening and closing keynote speakers at the 2018 ASCE Convention in Denver. The Foundation also provided grants to four Student Members to attend ASCE's Convention and ASCE scholarships were provided from funds endowed by ASCE members through the Foundation.

EXCELLENCE IN CIVIL ENGINEERING EDUCATION (ExCEEEd) TEACHING WORKSHOP

ExCEEEd workshops were held at the Durham School of Architectural Engineering and Construction, University of Nebraska–Lincoln, United States Military Academy at West Point, and Florida Gulf Coast University. With Foundation support, 70 civil, architectural and construction engineering faculty and 36 mentors and assistant mentors attended a six-day practicum that helps engineering educators enhance their instructional skills.

ASCE 2018 ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Foundation presented the Vilas & Ingrid Mujumdar Risk and Resiliency Registration Assistance Grant to ASCE Student Members, Ian McKane, Lucy Milaneses, Mohamed Gallow and Thomas Robbins, based on their interest in and knowledge of risk and resiliency in the built environment. This grant covered each student's Convention registration fee and some travel expenses. In addition, the Foundation provided an education grant to support the keynote speakers for the Opening Plenary and Closing Plenary sessions.

#GIVING TUESDAY

Thanks to your generosity, the ASCE Foundation raised more than $50,000 for the 2019 Younger Member Leadership symposia. The Foundation would not have achieved this success without Giving Tuesday matching gifts from Robert Wadell, Tom Smith, the ASCE Foundation Board of Directors and Council of Trustees. The SEI Futures Fund Board of Directors also matched all Giving Tuesday gifts made to the SEI Futures Fund.
